

MULTICULTURALISM IN YANGON

Tour Code: MY-MD06

Duration: Full day

OVERVIEW:

One of the exciting aspects of travelling in Myanmar is the fact that the country has been closed to foreigners and therefore unchanged for so many years. The population consists of more than 100 different nationalities and races (who often preserved their own dialect, customs, food and religious backgrounds). Only in Yangon you can visit 8 different places of worship in a day. During this full day tour we visit Indian town, China town and the National museum to see a stunning display of the traditional dress of the main groups of people living in Myanmar. It's also a day to discover the different religious backgrounds of the population - we will visit a Buddhist pagoda, a Christian church, a mosque, a synagogue, a Hindu temple, a Chinese temple, a Sikh temple and a place where spirits are honoured.
